MANY VISITORS REGISTER.

Bureau of Information a Busy Place Where Tourists May Learn of Utah.

Between the time of opening of the bureau of information this morning and 12:30 o'clock, the names of 238 persons appeared upon the register, and it was the opinion of the attendants that scarcely more than one in 10 of the visitors to Temple block had registered. The ratio mentioned holds good on most days when tourist travel is unusually heavy, though at other times most sightseers avail themselves of the invitation extended to register name and address, with such comments in the "remarks" column as they deem fitting to make, Said a gentleman today who is in no-

wise connected with the management

"The public fails to appreciate the vast amount of good done to this city and state by the bureau of information. A corps of able men and women are dally in attendance there, giving their time estate the vast amount of the corps of able men and women are dally in attendance there, giving their time estate the corps of the corps time gratuitously in speaking well of everybody and everything connected with the community. No knocking is heard, but the resources of the commonwealth are advertised, the citizens of Utah are held up as the peers of any in the land, irrespective of class or creed, and almost invariably a favorable impression is made upon the tour-

The class of literature distributed by the bureau, much of it given out free, is detrimental to no one, but beneficial to all who have the interests of the state at heart. Most visitors there go away with most kindly feelings for the reception accorded them and oftenaway with most kindly feelings for the reception accorded them, and oftentimes with preconceived notions and prejudices almost if not quite obliterated. To build up and not to tear down is the aim of the institution and that it is succeeding in the good work undertaken is evidenced by the hundreds of testimonials borne by visitors upon the grounds and by numerous letters that are sent here from the homes of tourists who have been entertained at

HUSBANDS ARE DEFENDANTS

Failure to Support, Cruelty, Desertion And Abusive Language Figure in Complaints of Mismated Couples.

Telling the judge that her husband was an awful good cook, but a mighty poor husband," Mrs. Elizabeth Kloes was granted a decree of divorce from Lewis Kloes, at the regular divorce matinee yesterday afternoon. The calendar was brief, and Judge Morse lost no time in applying the legal remedy where the need seemed to be impera tive. Mrs. Kloes testified that since their marriage in September, 1907, Lewis had given her only one week's pay and she had been compelled to earn her own living by taking in washing. She was awarded a decree, $20 per month alimony and $50 attorneys fees.

DONNELLY CASE.

The case of Letitia Donnelly came next. She said her husband, W. H. Donnelly, was addicted to the habit of choking and abusing her. In Decem-ber last he choked her to that extent and abused her so that she could stand t no longer and left him. The Don-nellys were married at Farmington, in February, 1966, and the woman claimed her husband had abused her nearly all the time since. There is one little girl, which the judge, in granting the di-vorce, gave to the custody of the mother.

TWO PETERSON BILLS.

Lena Peterson came into court with a cross complaint in the suit of her husband, James Peterson for divorce from her. This couple was married at Manti, September, 5, 1905, and the testimony went to show that they lived together only a short time and separated. They did this several times, and finally James filed a suit for divorce 17 months ago. Nothing further was done in the mater until yesterday, when Lena came into court with a cross complaint, alleging failure to provide and desertion. The mother of Lena, Mrs. Alice Sorensen, told the court that she had supported her daughter, with her two children, a boy and a girl. Judge Morse was convinced of the husband's neglect, and awarded a decree to the wife.

CHILDREN ADOPTED.

As soon as the divorce was granted, an application was filed by Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie Harkness to adopt the Peterson children. The mother gave her consent, and the papers were made out and the order of formal adoption was issued by Judge Morse.

POTTER CASE DISMISSED.

The case of Sarah J. Potter against The case of Sarah J. Potter against W. D. Potter was called for hearing and dismissed on motion of plaintiff, and a new complaint filed. The complaint now charges Potter with failure to provide and desertion, as well as calling his wife vile and abusive names and using profane language. Mrs. Potter asks that she be given the custody of the children and that her maiden name of Sarah L. Childithe be as name of Sarah J. Griffiths be re

Frank Raleigh bet $100 that he could walk to Provo in 20 hours, and he covered the distance in 14¼ hours. The wager made by Jake Raleigh was $250 that he could do the stunt in a like number of hours, and he won with the same record made by his brother, Frank. Katz's bet was that he would go afoot to Provo in 15 hours, and he had 35 minutes to spare when he reached the Garden City.

The following agreement between C. M. Fallas and R. Lindsley explains the latest Salt Lake-Provo walk contest:

This contract and agreement entered into this day, Aug. 28, 1998, by and between C. M. Fallas, party of the first part, and R. Lindsley, party of the second part, witnesseth:

That party of the first part agrees to give party of the second part $100 in the event party of the second part is successful in walking or running from the Brigham Young monument in Salt Lake City, Utah, to the Roberts hotel in Prevo, Utah, in 13 hours from the time party of the second part leaves the said monument.
